Evans Distribution Systems Earns Fifth ISO 9001:2015 Certification

MELVINDALE, Mich., Dec. 15, 2020—Evans Distribution Systems, a provider of third-party logistics and supply chain solutions, has earned another ISO 9001:2015 certification for its fifth facility located on Huron River Drive in Romulus, Mich.

The ISO 9001:2015 certification is the leading industry standard for quality management. The standard is intended to improve a company's customer focus, continual improvement, and high-quality products and services. All service areas and departments within Evans are involved in the certification process—requiring process enhancements and performance reviews to be an ongoing company-wide effort.

“We dedicate a great deal of time to improving quality systems at Evans, from weekly corrective action reports, to management reviews, and thorough tracking and reporting of key performance indicators,” says Doug Ashley, quality systems manager at Evans. Ashley leads these activities as well as internal audits in compliance with Evans' ISO 9001:2015 certification.

“Quality systems boil down to our processes and our customers,” says John A. Evans, president & CEO of Evans Distribution Systems. “Each customer comes with a unique set of requirements and it's our job to develop processes that optimize efficiency. When that happens, our customers receive high-quality service at competitive rates. This is what we strive for every day.”
